New From Axis Communications

PIR Motion Sensors

Enhanced, reliable motion detectors for indoor and outdoor applications. Provide accurate detection up to 40 feet, even in the dark, with few false alarms. Use as a trigger for video recording to reduce storage and bandwidth requirements.

Cameras with HDMI Outputs

Axis is now offering cameras featuring a built-in HDMI output, allowing the cameras to be directly connected to a monitor. This feature, in conjunction with the on-board storage allows users to bypass a network and utilize these cameras as complete stand-alone systems. Most cameras will offer this feature in Q1 2017.

Cybersecurity eBook

Axis Communications will release a Cybersecurity eBook in November, detailing best practices and describing the symptoms of poor cyber hygiene.
